In recognition of October as Breast Cancer Awareness Month, the students and staff at Porter and Chester Institute's Stratford campus held a bake sale to raise money for the American Cancer Society.

Pictured: Porter and Chester Institute student ambassadors present a check for $560 to American Cancer Society - New England Division representative Erin Nielsen (center).

This article is related to: National Breast Cancer Awareness Month